

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Baylor in St. Andrews semester study abroad program is well-suited for any student interested in the Arts and Humanities, and especially appropriate for students interested in philosophy and religion and their intersections and manifestations in culture and history.

Students will study at the University of St. Andrews in Scotland, one of the most prestigious universities in the U.K. St. Andrews has an outstanding international reputation and is especially strong in philosophy, religion, classics, history, art history, political science, psychology, and film & digital media. The academic opportunities presented at St. Andrews may be especially appealing to students in the Honors College.

A Baylor faculty program director will join the students for the duration of the program. Students are required to take the course taught by the director. All other courses will be chosen from St. Andrews' undergraduate curriculum.

Curricular options are available for students in a wide variety of academic disciplines. The semester calendar is much like Baylor's. Courses are a combination of lecture and tutorial.

In addition to coursework, students will be expected to participate actively in the educational and extracurricular activities organized by the director.

HOW TO APPLY

Only serious students who have completed at least 30 hours at Baylor should apply.

Students must have a minimum 3.2 GPA (this will be assessed at the end of each semester).

Students must have a clear judicial record or consent to go by the Center for International Education and the director.

The program is limited to 20 students.

BAYLOR IN ST. ANDREWS

SPRING 2015

STUDY AND LIVE IN SCOTLAND!

The world can be your campus!

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY OF ST. ANDREWS

Founded in the fifteenth century, the University of St. Andrews is Scotland's oldest university and the third oldest in the United Kingdom. The university lies in the heart of the town of St. Andrews. Unlike Baylor, everything is not gathered in one place, but spread throughout the town. The University of St. Andrews is an educational hub for a bustling international community with students and faculty from over 80 different countries. With a diverse student body of approximately 6,000 students, approximately 1/3 are from Scotland, 1/3 are from the United Kingdom and European Union, and 1/3 are from the rest of the World.

ABOUT ST. ANDREWS

Set on the beautiful Fife coast, St. Andrews, population 18,000, is a university town with both ancient ruins and one of the world's most famous golf courses, the Old Course. For more than a thousand years, St. Andrews has been the focal point of bishops and kings, martyrs, saints, and scholars. The ruins of the castle and a large cathedral, consecrated in 1388 under Robert the Bruce, dominate the landscape near the bay. St. Salvator's Chapel, with a high clock tower, is one of the finest examples of medieval architecture in Scotland. This town and the university are dear to Christians, both Catholics and Protestants, and their stories are interwoven in the cultural, historical, and intellectual life in Scotland.

Also, within access by Britrail, are London, Cambridge, Oxford, Salisbury, Stonehenge and Bath.

ABOUT THE PROGRAM DIRECTOR

Dr. Thomas Kidd

Professor, Department of History

Thomas Kidd specializes in the history of religion and politics in the eighteenth century. His most recent book is George Whitefield: America's Spiritual Founding Father (Yale University Press, fall 2014). He received a BA and MA from Clemson University, and his Ph.D. from the University of Notre Dame. He has taught at Baylor since 2002.

Dr. Kidd lives in Waco with his wife, Ruby, and their two grade-school age sons, Jonathan and Joshua, who will be accompanying us in the program.

ABOUT THE DIRECTOR'S COURSE

HIS 4340: The Age of Revolutions in Britain and America

The eighteenth century in Scotland, England, and America saw enormous upheavals in religion, ideas, and politics, from the Great Awakening, to the Enlightenment, and the American Revolution. In this course, we will examine and compare the impact of those upheavals in Britain and America.

HP 1112: Scottish Hiking offered as an additional course

All students will be required to take Dr. Kidd's history course. All other courses will be chosen from the University of St. Andrews course list.
